A little bit more about the island of Holbox

Holbox means "black hole" in Mayan, in reference to the color of its beautiful lagoon. The island has approximately 2,000 residents, who live from the fishing and sustainable tourism. With a length of 42 kilometers and a width of 2 kilometers, the island offers 36 kilometers of white-sand pristine beaches, corals, mangrove swamps, and lagoons. It is located at the North of the State of Quintana Roo, at 160 kilometers from Cancun and 180 from Mérida. You can get to this paradise by air or by sea. Just 15 minutes from the hotel (by foot or bicycle), you can get to downtown Holbox.

The friendliness and politeness of its inhabitants is mixed with the attractive culinary options. The entrance of vehicles is not allowed at Holbox in order to protect the environment and to prevent the streets from getting covered in sand. Holbox has several options to enjoy nature, but the one that attracts most visitors is the experience of swimming with the impressive whale shark during the months of June to September, an opportunity you can experience in very few parts of the world. Another option is visiting Isla Pájaros (Bird Island), a small island covered with mangrove swamps and cacti, located on the Yalahau lagoon, where there is a large diversity of birds (some of them are in danger of extinction), which is why there are two observation points and walkways – to minimize direct contact with the birds. Flamingos, cormorants, herons, frigate birds, pelicans, wild ducks, and seagulls are just a few of the species you will be able to observe in this environment.
